

Figure 4.18: Top View of the architecture of the convolutional neural network used. (The graph flows from top to bottom). A Batch Normalization layer is placed before every max-pooling layer in the encoder part and before every concatenate layer in the decoder part (Not presented in the architecture for brevity).